

The Codru Wine Region is located in the central part of Moldova, covering a surface of about 60 thousand hectares. The region is known for its majestic forests – called The Codri, rolling hills, and a mild climate. The Codru Region hosts some of the world's largest cellars and is the best area for growing white and sparkling wines. Grape varieties that thrive here include Feteasca Alba and Feteasca Regala, Chardonnay, Viorica, Muscat, Glera and Sauvignon Blanc. Visitors will need approximately 3 days to complete this Wine Route.

Leuntea-Vin is a family business and here you will find a historic mansion, age-old cellars, and almost 18 hectares of vines. Leuntea-Vin wines are kept in the oldest cellars in Moldova and the Balkans, dating back to 1817. However, the age of the vines is presumed to date even further as Leuntea-Vin's tunnels were built by the Turks in the sixteenth century. Throughout history, these tunnels have been visited by many prominent personalities.

Being a pioneer of the Moldovan wine industry, Salcuta Winery is truly a beacon of sustainable winemaking in Moldova. The founder of the winery, Eugen Pislaru, defined winemaking as the purpose of his life, a purpose which was passed on to his eldest son Sergiu Pislaru. Upon reservation tourists are invited to the winery tasting room where they can enjoy excellent quality wines and authentic dishes.
